OVERVIEW

ALL NATIONS
INTERNATIONAL
reaching the neglected globally • the least, the last, and the lost

Arab Muslims are all those who speak Arabic as their first language and identify as Arabs. Among those living in the MENA region, less than two percent are followers of Christ, with very few of those actively reaching out to their Muslim neighbors. The largest Christian communities within the region include Egypt, Lebanon, Bahrain, and Syria, yet all are small in percentage.

All Nations' fieldworkers, the Davis* family, have been working in the MENA region since 2015 and living there since 2021. Their ministry began with training and mobilizing Arab believers with Christian backgrounds. Later, they began bridging gaps between Arab believers from both Muslim and Christian backgrounds. This included joint trainings for church planters and disciple-makers from ten Arab nations. They are currently discipling Christian leaders with Muslim backgrounds who are discipling others and practicing principles of multiplication. In addition, they are engaged in business efforts in the region and helping create access pathways for others to enter hard-to-reach communities. Their hope is to see Arab-led movements of families come to know Jesus as Lord and Savior, to follow Him wholeheartedly, and to become bold witnesses and life-giving influences in their communities.
